Question:—How can W.C. Smith & Co. sell goods so cheap?

Answer:—They sell for cash and their customers' do not have to pay other people's bad debts.

A lesson in economy is more valuable than a lesson in theology. The dearest way you can buy goods is on the old credit system.

Deal with us and pay cash; then you don't have to square up other folks' bad debts. Besides we have the most magnificent store, the best assortment, cleanest stock and freshest goods in the Territory.

THE RESERVOIR.

A GREAT WORK BY THE FLORENCE CANAL COMPANY.

A Busy Scene on the Great Levee Under Construction—What a View to the Reservoir Reveals—Substantial Work of Construction.

It was the good fortune of a representative of THE ENTERPRISE to visit the new storage reservoir under construction by the Florence Canal Company, about fifteen miles south of Florence, a few days ago.

The ride was made in two hours and the route was along the canal, from which could be seen the great fields and other improvements resulting from this source of water supply.

The country is apparently as level as a floor, with just sufficient fall to render irrigation an easy process, and it instinctively creates the impression that nature fashioned in its most perfect manner for man's use the broad acres through which this canal, also known as the "Big Ditch," flows.

Howard Mercer, of the Singer Sewing Machine Company arrived Wednesday evening to look after the interests of the company in this valley.

H. Buehman returned to Tucson today after a very short stay at this place. He took many views about Florence while here.

From Atlas Camp.

ATLAS CAMP, Feb. 27.

Editor ENTERPRISE:—Every day is on the move here as usual. The new 40 ton smelter is on the ground and ready to put in place. Work of putting it up will commence in a few days.

Old Reliable, James Quiggle, is still knocking away at the Atlas level which he has found some very hard rock. The Red Rock well is finished and a large supply of water was struck at 625 feet. John Gardner, the contractor, is now putting in a pump to test it.

Seventeen miners are now at work in the different claims, with James Moreland as foreman. Mr. John T. Fayle has charge of Quiggle's interests here. A very sad incident took place here a few days ago. Our pet dog, Spot, was killed by a trap set by a snake.

Mr. White expects to have the tunnel completed in a few days and will, it is understood, work custom ore for the accommodation of prospects in this district.

Everybody is pleased here with the stand THE ENTERPRISE has taken on the Indian question. Just keep after Crook and his pets and you will gain friends. No steps have as yet been taken in regard to commencing work on the Old Boot and Silver Bell Mines, but the parties are looked for every day.

As ever yours, M. M. Saunders.

Mammoth Bonanza.

From E. S. Dodge the Star learns that the Mammoth gold mines are now running night and day. Thirty stamps are dropping steadily and everything runs like clock work.

About 50 men are employed. Mr. Dodge says the ore body is simply immense, and the grade is high. The mine is looking better than ever; the foot wall has not yet been found all the way up the mine.

The ore being worked is very high grade, and there is enough low grade ore in sight and uncovered to run one hundred stamps for twenty years.

The ore is easily and inexpensively mined and being mostly decomposed quartz is readily crushed. The mine is in a flourishing condition. Frank Wells has charge of the mine.

From Verde.

VERDE, Feb. 27.

The Biggest River Ever Seen—Loss of Ditches and Cattle.

(Corr. Prescott Courier.)

Verde river reached the highest point in its history yesterday; on the night of the 21st it wiped out of existence all the ditches along its banks. The Verde Ditch Co. will have to open up about four miles of new ditches, commencing near the mouth of Beaver Creek. This ditch will cost between three and four thousand dollars. A part of the old ditch is now the river bed.

Cottonwood ditch, on Upper Verde, has also been washed away. About one mile of ditch will have to be reconstructed at a probable cost of a thousand dollars. Quite a number of cattle perished. They can be seen lodged with drift wood in trees as high as ten feet above the ground. The loss here was purely financial and most of the farmers can repair the damage by their own labor.

Two inches of rain fell at this place. The river at the present writing has receded to its normal condition.

Mail communication is re-established. The weather is clear and cool and things have resumed their normal course. Mail communication is re-established.

Thomas E. Edwards, of Lower Verde, is in the post hospital, having been badly bruised and injured by a vicious horse.

John L. Sullivan, a soldier of troop K, had his hand cut to pieces by a wood saw.

Bread and all kinds of Groceries, Fresh Fruits, etc., at the Florence Bakery. A cash business. One price to all. Everybody treated alike.

J. M. LILE.

Promising Prospects.

W. S. Read and Ed. Brownell have two promising gold mining properties in the Sierra mountains, 35 miles south of Tucson, on the Fashion claim. A tunnel drift is being run in on the vein, which is now 70 feet, and the event foot of tunnel a depth of 300 feet is made from surface of vein.

They are now working on a fine gold ore vein three and one-half feet wide. There are 80 men on the dump, which is being increased rapidly. The outlook for these properties is certainly very flattering.
